Diploma Program Outline, Flexible Enrolment Format Paces, Timetable & Rates

Thank you for your interest in Academy of Art Canada's comprehensive traditional drawing and painting diploma program. At the AAC, each student is taught individually, at their own pace, in small groups.

Beginners are welcome. Students may begin studying with us at any time, provided space is available.

Students begin to learn painting early in our program, along with developing not only their proportionate drawing skills and rendering but also design – all taught in natural north light in keeping with Renaissance-to-19th-century artistic practice. The study of historical painting techniques which includes how-to demonstrations, is included as a regular part of our core curriculum.

Level 1 *3 Quarters

Proportionate Basics,
Limited Sight-Size,
Figurative Basics,
Colour/Painting Basics

First half of opening level is devoted to achieving proportionate accuracy along with learning how to effectively render in light and dark. Both the sight-size and comparative methods of measurement are taught with more or less equal emphasis.

The student completes three 19th century study Barge drawings and three cast drawings. A quarter of the first level deals with Learning to draw the figure with correct proportions; more specifically, what is common to all figures, with various approaches to the rendering of form saved for level

two. Poetic accuracy and mechanical accuracy are both separately addressed and subsequently synthesized when competency is achieved in both. This approach provides the student with a more versatile drawing foundation leading to future development beyond the overly mechanical approach often limited to still, academic poses.

A quarter of the first level (not necessarily the final one) builds a bridge between tonal work accomplished in the above areas and the study of colour and painting. Elementary aspects of colour are introduced as quickly as possible in tandem with the development of drawing skills.

Gerald M. Ackerman, Charles Barge with the Collaboration of Jean-Léon Gérôme: Drawing Course (Paris, ACR Edition, Dahesh M.A.)

Level 2 *5.5 Quarters

Comparative Proportion
Development,
Figure Drawing,
Painting in the Round,
Historical Technique,
Visual Memory Training

The second level sees the student continuing to develop their skill in the drawing and rendering of form. Sight-size study is phased out in favor of comparative measurement, and the training of the visual memory begins with the practice of organic proportionate drawing. Supplementary study in areas such as morphology, perspective, rhythm, construction and essential aspects strengthen the grasp of form. Basic direct painting is introduced, with the student completing five copies in oils: two figurative, two portraits and one landscape.

Historical technique is taught with the different approaches to rendering the figure in drawing and painting. The techniques, materials and artistic thinking are explored as they relate to the figure. In painting, ten historical methods, including the early Flemish and Baroque methods are investigated. Two still lives are painted from life and two landscape studies are painted en plein air.

Level 3 *4.5 Quarters

Painting from Life and Picture Making,
Picture Making from Studies

The student paints directly from life as well as from their life drawing studies. An individual curriculum is developed in consultation with the directors of the academy that will serve to complete their training.

Strong emphasis is placed on essential areas such as compositional study, Master color theory, and the drawing of difficult subjects such as drapery and trees. Beyond this point, the student's ongoing learning will be replaced by the capable sources of empirical effort, masterful art and nature's great storehouse of suggestions.

Directions: Academy of Art Canada is located at 1929 Davenport Road, Toronto, ON Canada M6N 1C3

TTC: From Dundas West subway station on the Bloor line, take the 168 Symington bus a total of 9 stops from the station to the corner of Laughton Avenue and Davenport Road. This is our intersection – we are a few doors in from the southwest corner of this intersection, at 1929 Davenport Road. There is a large artist’s palette marked AAC hanging out over the sidewalk in front of the studio. Please use our side entrance upon arrival, via the gated marked ‘Atelier Entrance’, thanks. Following your visit, the 168 Symington bus that will take you back to the station, stops right in front of the studio.

Alternative TTC routes: The 127 Davenport bus also goes to our intersection, Davenport Road and Laughton Avenue. The 127 bus leaves from Spadina subway station on the Bloor line, though not as frequently as the Symington bus leaves from Dundas West subway station. The 127 Davenport bus route is more scenic though (and longer by around 15 minutes more), going by the historic site of Casa Loma.

The St. Clair street car may be the choice for some. It stops at St Clair Avenue West and Laughton Avenue, from where you can walk down Laughton Avenue a couple of blocks to Laughton and Davenport, which is our intersection.

Driving: 401 to 400 South, which is Black Creek Drive. (If you’re westbound 401, 400 South is the first exit after Keel Street exit. If you’re eastbound 401, 400 South is first exit east after Albion Road exit.) Follow Black Creek Drive southbound to Weston Road. Take Weston Road to St. Clair Avenue West. Turn left or East on St. Clair Avenue West to Old Weston Road. Head South on Old Weston Road for a very short time, turning left or eastbound on to Davenport Road. Follow Davenport Road a minute or so to Laughton Avenue. The studio is located at 1929 Davenport Road, very near the intersection of Davenport Road and Laughton Avenue.

Alternate driving route: QEW to Gardiner Expressway to Jameison Dunn exit. North on Jameison to Queen Street West, turn right on Queen Street West, turn first immediate left on to Lansdowne Avenue. Head North on Lansdowne to Davenport Road. Turn left on Davenport Road, going West until you reach Laughton Avenue, which is our intersection. The studio is located at 1929 Davenport Road.

Parking: There is short-term parking available on the streets around the studio. We are not right downtown so there are no meters in our area. Our driving students typically park on Davenport Road in front of or near the studio, or on Laughton Avenue to our direct East, or Uxbridge Avenue directly to our west. Please read the local signs carefully as the regulations can, from time to time, differ from street to street. Note for instance, that the parking on the side street Uxbridge Avenue, directly to our West, is more flexible than that on Laughton Avenue, just East of the studio.
